A caution to all candidates for employment!

DISCLOSURE

During the skills phase of our hiring process, you will be required to perform certain physical activities. For example, you may be tested on your abilities to handle different types of stretchers, your lifting skills, etc.... In doing such physical activities, a risk of injury is always present.

For this reason, we require that you read the statement below and, if you wish to continue the hiring process, sign, date and return this document with your application package.

I understand and accept the potential risks involved while participating in the selection process with Thames EMS.

As a candidate, I further understand that I will be submitted to physical testing. By signing this document, I agree to save harmless Thames EMS, its employees or agents, for any injury that I may sustain during the selections process.
